The role would suit someone who enjoys working in a fast-paced environment.

Publications and collateral

- Support the Senior Communications Officer in the production of UUKi's corporate publications including major research reports. This involves liaising with policy colleagues, researchers, designers and printers and working with colleagues to promote our flagship publications.
- The post-holder will have responsibility for the proofreading, design and publication of some reports.

- The post holder will play an important role in the refresh of UUKi's website.
- Oversee use of UUKi's brand across all channels and UUKi-associated programmes.

Digital content, media and social media

- Lead on development and delivery of UUKi's content plan for digital and social platforms including drafting, overseeing design of, and uploading web content - particularly for our blogs and social media content (Twitter, LinkedIn).
- Lead evaluation of these channels and make sure this insight is used to continuously improve UUKi's digital outputs and engagement. Particular responsibility for compiling a monthly evaluation report with support from External Affairs colleagues.
- Some liaison with journalists
 – particularly sector media and international media – to promote our work and key messages, supported by the Senior Communications Officer.

Member communications

• Support External Affairs colleagues in delivering member communications, including writing, collating and proofreading content.

Some overnight travel and flexibility of working hours may be required.

This job description will be reviewed and amended in the light of changing professional demands. A job description is not a rigid or inflexible document but acts to provide guidelines to the duties expected while in post.

BACKGROUND

The UK can be proud of having one of the best university systems in the world. International links contribute immeasurably to this success. UUKi exists to ensure our universities thrive internationally in education, research, and the exchange of staff and students.

In everything we do, we seek to advance towards our strategic aims which are:

- Attract a growing number of international students to the UK
- Increase international research collaboration, especially through the creation of the conditions and funding to support it
- Double outbound student mobility from the UK
- Increase the number of students studying for UK qualifications overseas.

We achieve this via a busy programme of engaging and influencing, building evidence and informing, both in the UK and in priority countries around the world.

To give you a taste of our activities, in the academic year 19/20, we:

- Supported our members, UK universities, through the Covid-19 pandemic, securing substantial policy changes, providing advice and guidance, and a space for the sector to collaborate.
- Supported our members through the UK's exit from the EU, leading sector-wide activities to prepare UK universities for the end of the transition period.
- Published our annual scale of UK HE transnational education report, identifying that 142 UK universities report TNE students in 226 countries and territories worldwide, more than ever before. Alongside this, we launched a new interactive webpage for TNE practitioners and strategists.
- Launched the third and final year of our Go International: Stand Out campaign aiming to double the percentage of UK-domiciled students who study, work or volunteer abroad during their undergraduate degrees.
- Created a digital campaign that reached 10 million people. The campaign, #WeAreTogether, aimed to support and reassure international students studying or due to study in the UK during Covid-19.
- Achieved a five-fold increase in the uptake of our Newton Fund partner matching service (compared to 2018/19).
- Led 14 delegations, meeting with over 170 high level representatives; held four conferences and 18 network meetings attracting over 2500 attendees from universities and organisations in the UK and around the world; held webinars with 1724 attendees; and produced 10 UUKi reports and publications.

And much more besides – see www.international.ac.uk for more information.
